

JOHNNY BUFF BEATS HERMAN FOR BANTAM TITLE

Veteran Flyweight Champ Outclasses New Orleans Boy
Wizened Father of Three Children Has Edge In All Except One of 15 Rounds—Dazzles Heavier Man With Speed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Little, wizened Johnny Buff, father of three children, a toothless old man of the ring at the age of 33 years, went above his own class at Madison Square Garden tonight and won the bantamweight championship of the world from Pete Herman.

Buff gained the judge's decision at the end of fifteen lively, but by no means sanguinary, rounds.

This is the second time that Pete Herman has lost his title in the garden on a decision.

Buff was clearly outpointed most of the way and seemed utterly unable to offset Buff's footwork or to solve the defense of Buff's peculiar style. And the little veteran flyweight champion of America easily won the judge's verdict.

Buff's Some Infighter.

Herman's forte has been in-fighting, but Johnny Buff, although out-weighted four pounds, actually laid shoulder to shoulder with the former New Orleans bootblack and fought until Herman was more than ready to back away whenever they came to close fighting.

Buff led all the way except in the concluding chapter. He went down once. It is true, but it counted for nothing in the final analysis.

Buff has a peculiar blow in the form of a left jab and a half hook, which he continually beat over Herman's countenance, beating the latter to his own left jab.

He also made constant use of a right uppercut, which he would pack in against Herman's heart from a crouching position. Or he would send it sailing up to Herman's nose as they closed in.

When Herman got started in the fourth and floored Johnny, the little old man of the ring got all het up about it and before the gong was sounded drew clear.

Pete spent a good many moments against ropes holding a long-winded reception for Johnny's hooks and the seventh chapter was even most of the way. The eighth went to Buff. The ninth went to Buff with considerable honors. Herman, for the first time assuming the aggressive, did stagger Johnny with a right to the jaw and tried to cross another. But Johnny was back in the instant with two rights plunk on Pete's jaw. Game to the end, Pete tried a rush, but Johnny forced him to cover and slammed several rights to his bad eye. Not content with that, Johnny went to it again with a left and right swing which Herman managed to miss.

In the twelfth Johnny tried to force the issue and put Herman to sleep. But Pete was on the job and fought his best round with stinging lashes one to the body and two rights to the jaw.

The thirteenth was a free for all regular sparring scrap with both boys going it strong and with Buff coming through the melee a little better off than his opponent. Little better off than his opponent. Little better off than his opponent. Little better off than his opponent.

The fourteenth belonged to Buff, and the fifteenth, and final round found both still conscious. When the timer clanged down the curtain the little veteran Buffalo wanted more. He got it in the way of a victory in a class outside his own.

BIG FIELD STARTS PLAY FOR DISTRICT NET TITLE TODAY

Eighty-Eight Entered for Singles Matches at Dumbarton Club.

By GORDON SHAND.

With 88 entrants, including the "class" of the tennis players of the District, play in the 33d annual tournament for the singles championship of the District will start at 1 o'clock this afternoon on the courts of the Dumbarton Club. The field is the largest in the history of the event.

It is expected that the preliminary round will be completed this afternoon, and by this evening the field should be reduced to the 64 players who will start out on the first round either tomorrow or Monday. Play on Sunday is not compulsory, but is the desire of the committee in charge that as many first-round matches be completed on that day as is possible.

The upper and lower brackets are very nearly equally divided in strength. R. Ballenger, the Suburban League luminary; Jack Dudley, the Swarthmore boy who was runner-up in last year's tournament; Clarence Chast, the aggressive Baltimore and Dumbarton wonder; and John Temple Graves, one of the District's tennis veterans, will probably settle the supremacy of the upper bracket among themselves.

In the lower bracket are Tom Mangan, of Dumbarton; Maj. Arthur Yencken, the present titleholder; J. J. Konkel, a Georgetown star, nearly unknown in District tennis but who is raised high in collegiate circles; and Capt. Al Gore, the Dumbarton old-timer, whose puzzling variety of services makes him always to be reckoned with.

The tournament committee announced last night that the entry list for the men's doubles and women's singles will remain open until tonight. Mixed doubles entries may be made up to Monday night, as these matches will not be started until later in the week.

The events will be run off in the following order: Men's singles, women's doubles, mixed doubles. The whole tournament is expected to extend over about ten days' time.

The pairings for the men's singles today follow:

UPPER BRACKET.
Preliminary Round.
Clarence Chast vs. Capt. High Miller; Clarence Chast vs. J. J. Konkel; Capt. Shipley vs. Joe Pace; C. G. Grove vs. John Dudley; Don Sticker vs. E. Love; D. E. Kieker vs. D. C. Thompson; F. H. Taylor vs. J. T. Graves; E. R. Knudsen vs. A. J. McLaughlin; W. H. White; E. J. McLaughlin vs. William Ballenger; Ed. Dord vs. Frank Taylor; Samuel Taylor vs. L. Bates.

First Round.
Harry Moore vs. William Foster; C. Dowd vs. A. L. White; J. R. Ballenger vs. Maj. Lanza; B. Jean vs. John Myers; R. L. Miller vs. Mr. Hinton vs. J. Beyer; J. G. Grath vs. F. M. Haines; A. J. Gore vs. H. H. Lutz.

LOWER BRACKET.
Preliminary Round.
William Van Sturtevant vs. R. Robinson; C. F. Stan vs. Lieut. Field; Arthur Reynolds vs. Capt. Johnson; R. Ballenger vs. Robert Burrell; Joseph Fairbanks vs. E. Vanvosen; Lieut. Harold Sedon vs. Tom Mangan; J. H. Hill vs. A. L. Knapp; E. D. Calkins vs. Dr. Kaufman; Arthur Yanken vs. Owen Howenstein; E. C. Trumbull vs. C. S. Thompson; F. H. Taylor vs. B. L. Bates; E. K. Uler vs. J. H. Gains.

First Round.
Thad Benton vs. D. E. Rice; Stanley Carr vs. H. Hill; Will Richardson vs. Maj. Lanza; B. Jean vs. John Myers; R. L. Miller vs. Mr. Hinton vs. J. Beyer; J. G. Grath vs. F. M. Haines; A. J. Gore vs. H. H. Lutz.

Second Round.
(Wilson), 11.80, 5.40, 2.90; Brotherly Love, 99 (Parke), 5.40, 3.80; Kewpie O'Neil, 102 (Scobie), 2.30, Time, 1:45 2-5. Matinee, 101, Gen. Haig also ran.

Seventh Race—Bunga Buck, 102 (Barnes), 24.60, 8.90, 5.70; Kick Side, 99 (Gregory), 5.40, 4.40; Wickford, 109 (Garner), 4.30, Time, 1:38 4-5. United Viceroy, Dartmoor, Dobbado, Legal, Travesty also ran.

Coach Robb put the Catholic University football squad through an arduous hard scrimmage session yesterday and to vary the monotony, no injuries were reported. The first team backfield—consisting of Buckley, Fitzgerald, Emery, and Connell—worked well together and came to be the best combination available. Corwin and Yeager, ends; Brennan and McKuen, tackles; Kee and Lynch, guards, and "Joe" Brennan, center, made up the remainder of the first team.

Lynch and Keeler at guards look like fixtures, while Brennan and McKuen are leading in the race for tackles but are by no means assured of their positions. Of the ends Corwin put up a splendid defensive game, while Yeager—a fast, rangy boy—looks to have the makings of an offensive star. "Joe" Brennan seems to have the edge at center, but Eberts and Volsinger are still in the race.

"Danny" Curran was in uniform yesterday and showed his old ability to pick holes and keep his feet. In the last quarter Kerrigan was shifted to quarter and showed up well. There will be light practice today, and then the squad will be given a rest until Monday.

Siesta Bests Favorite in Havre de Grace Feature

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Sept. 23.—The card at Havre de Grace today was made up for cheap horses with six events on the flat and one steeplechase over the two mile course for maidens three years and upward.

One of the finest finishes of the afternoon came in the fourth race when J. R. Skinner's Siesta and Trantula fought it out through the last sixteenth of a furlong dash just as hard as though they had not been racing under the same colors. It made the third winning for this stable since W. A. Burtchall took over the Skinner horses and the victory was a popular one, although Sam's Old Sinner, who ran third, had been made favorite.

Trantula ran a remarkable race in this event, starting from the outside fence, where the assistant starter had held him in an unruly field, and making up ground all the way until he joined the leaders in the stretch.

There was another exciting finish for the fifth race, over a mile and a sixteenth, when E. F. Whitney's Sammy Jay just got up and nosed out The Trooper, who was favorite for this event, with Curran Events, who finished third, crowding the two leaders.

There came a big upset with the finish of the sixth, over the mile and a sixteenth, which was the second half of a split from the fifth number of the card. Bribed Voter, favorite for the event, was tackled by Horseb on the first turn and these two raced in front all the way. There was a slashing finish through the stretch and at the end Horseb gained the decision by a head over the favorite, while Bob Smith's Benevolent got up from the rear position to take third money.

Despite the heat of yesterday afternoon, the five events that Coach Exendine has sifted from his wealth got down to formations and individualism. He is of Comstock's type, short and stocky, and weighs in at 295 pounds. DuFour, former Dean Academy star, and Martino, captain Atlantic City High School eleven for the last two years, at this date hold the center of the stage for the quarterback position, with DuFour, at 180 pounds, looking like first choice. Bucholz, the 195-pound Washington boy, was yesterday used at fullback.

16 developed yesterday that "Buck" Wise, another local lad, who last fall was the sensation of the Georgia Tech game at Atlanta, may not be out for the team this season.

Two more members were unanimously elected to full membership in the Two Hundred Pound Club yesterday. They were Tom McNamara and William A. Gordon, gigantic linemen from the New Haven (Conn.) High School. Tom makes the old beam dance at the even 200 mark, while Bill carries 195 pounds of brawn. If the club's membership list continues to grow a 200-pound line from tackle to tackle may become a reality on the Hill-top.

Football enthusiasts were cheered yesterday by word from Bill Kenyon, the sturdy little end who last year came in for a generous bit of praise from Walter Camp when the famous football authority made a flying visit to Exie's squad. Kenyon will report Monday. According to reports he holds his own weight of between 175 and 180 pounds.

While there is as yet no semblance of a first team and the coach's choice cannot be determined, Thompson, who hails from Texas, is certain to come in for much attention. He is of Comstock's type, short and stocky, and weighs in at 295 pounds. High School. Tom makes the old beam dance at the even 200 mark, while Bill carries 195 pounds of brawn. If the club's membership list continues to grow a 200-pound line from tackle to tackle may become a reality on the Hill-top.

Football enthusiasts were cheered yesterday by word from Bill Kenyon, the sturdy little end who last year came in for a generous bit of praise from Walter Camp when the famous football authority made a flying visit to Exie's squad. Kenyon will report Monday. According to reports he holds his own weight of between 175 and 180 pounds.

While there is as yet no semblance of a first team and the coach's choice cannot be determined, Thompson, who hails from Texas, is certain to come in for much attention. He is of Comstock's type, short and stocky, and weighs in at 295 pounds. DuFour, former Dean Academy star, and Martino, captain Atlantic City High School eleven for the last two years, at this date hold the center of the stage for the quarterback position, with DuFour, at 180 pounds, looking like first choice. Bucholz, the 195-pound Washington boy, was yesterday used at fullback.

16 developed yesterday that "Buck" Wise, another local lad, who last fall was the sensation of the Georgia Tech game at Atlanta, may not be out for the team this season.
